EXPERTISE

Don comes to RDG after spending his thirty-two year professional career working at various positions within the kitchen equipment contractor (KEC) community. He brings depth to our team by offering guidance on the delivery of a clear and concise drawing set to our design partners, reviewing and commenting on submitted shop drawings from KEC's, and providing a high-level of service and knowledge in resolving all field-related matters at project installation.

Don is based out of Studio One in Indianapolis and is managing projects for RDG primarily in this region.
